Hello all,

We wanted to touch base and let everyone know how things are going here. First of all, Amy Westerholm is back in Montepuez and is recovering very well. Thanks for all the prayers for her. Caleb Gardner has been released from the hospital in South Africa. We are still praying for complete recovery for him since he is not yet functioning at his normal level. The Gardners are headed to the U.S. for a few months to get whatever help they need for Caleb and for a much needed break. Please continue to keep that family in your prayers.

Our family is doing pretty well. We have 5 more weeks until we leave for the U.S. Things will be busy until then, with ministry, trying to finish our guesthouse, and wrapping everything up. We are getting excited about our trip and getting to see family and friends in the U.S. Our family talks and prays about our new little baby daily. Luke wants a girl and Andrew wants a boy. One of them will be happy! ☺ Pray that all will go smoothly with the rest of the pregnancy, traveling, and delivery. Also pray for our transition to three kids, and therefore zone defense.

Luke has been coughing hard for over a month now. We have been in contact with Jeremy's dad and uncle in the U.S. to get counsel on how we should deal with it. He went through a whole round of antibiotics without much improvement. He hasn't had fevers and plays normally during the day, but especially has trouble with coughing at night. We are starting to wonder if he has asthma or some kind of allergies. Please keep him in your prayers. He is starting to get discouraged with having to cough so much. Many times he coughs so hard that it makes him throw up.

There's not any other big news. Please visit our website to see pictures and news of our family and our whole team. We appreciate you all and the support (emotionally, spiritually, and financially) that you give us. Thanks for keeping us in your prayers. We are convinced that prayer is such an important part of the ministry here. Our team and the Christians here really need your constant prayers. Thank you.

In Him,
Jeremy, Martha, Luke, Andrew, and baby ?
